November 2023

Published by City of Harrah

November

Once lush green lawns have been freshly mowed for the final time and the trees are shedding their colorful foliage leaving behind a carpet of golden leaves to remind us that winter is fast approaching. It is a time of transition as autumn gives way to holiday preparations.

Myers Engineering is working on an ambitious project that will help shape the city's future. They embarked on the meticulous design of the replacement sewer line for Harrah Road, a critical infrastructure upgrade. Simultaneously, they laid out the plans for NE 23rd Street's new sewer line. Both projects are integral to the City of Harrah's modernization and expansion.

The lift station on south Harrah Road is nearing completion. Unfortunately, a few essential parts and supplies have been backordered which will temporarily delay completion.

The dedicated city staff has worked relentlessly. Their collective efforts have been focused on securing REAP grants which, if awarded to the city, would pave the way for numerous park improvements and the addition of much-needed sidewalks. We continue our commitment to making the city more beautiful, accessible, and enjoyable for all residents.

Thanks to the generosity of the townspeople, the Senior Center auction was a remarkable success! Donations poured in! The event itself was a heartwarming testament to the tight-knit community that knows the value of coming together and supporting a worthy cause.

As November progresses, the people of this city are not just preparing for the holidays, they are also crafting a brighter future, one project and one act of kindness at a time.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING!
